The Commons Church is a local church in East Lansing with the goal of reaching college students through their campus organization Salt Company.

The Commons Church is a two year old church that launched in East Lansing, on September 8, 2019. Over 50 people moved from other parts of the country to help start this church and hundreds of people from across the country are praying for and financially supporting The Commons Church. Between Michigan State University and Lansing Community College, there are over 70,000 college students in our city. One of the things we believe is, "Win the campus, win the world." We unapologetically believe that the most strategic group of people for us to reach if we want to be part of rapidly growing God's Kingdom is college students.
